“ Life is short and families are confussing. I just found out today that my brother has passed on to Gods land. Bless his heart and may God watch over him. i have not seen him for about 15 to 20 years again. I got to visit with him on my way to Diego with my youngest daughter as she was moving there. That was the first time i had seen him since I was 16 yrs old. yes I am the youngest child of the family. I lost my youngest daughter in 2021 to a rare cancer. Went back to Missouri to family reunion and found out my half sister had passed away the year before. Came home and did some searching and found out half brother had died the year before that. Im not sure if May is still with us but Mary and I are the last of nine for now. Boy what a family.Bless you all.
